----- X

Results driven thought leader with a pragmatic, hands-on approach to educate and deliver talent solutions that fit and enhance company culture.

- Clear and inspirational communicator
- Proactive, can-do attitude with excellent interpersonal skill
- Design, develop and implement global innovative talent management programs, mentor programs and processes to attract talent and improve depth, quality and engagement of talent across the organization..

Working on the cutting edge, facilitating businesses immeasurably with their abilities to integrate the next generation leaders into their success.

Successfully aligning companies' vision and values when designing and implementing talent and leadership development programs; aiding in culture, recruiting efforts, engagement and employee retention. A large part of my coaching is educating and training teams/executives on Emotional Intelligence which translates to greater communication and better relationships.

Success coaching is about enhancing a person's ability to increase his or her personal wealth; ie quality of life, career goals, relationship. This is done by understanding my client's world, building trust and then confront issues head-on with integrity and passion.

By establishing clear goals and pushing beyond I empower the client's unique qualities and personal power to encourage breakthroughs that allows them to thrive. When you find your personal balance, the daily challenges in your busy life will no longer feel overwhelming. I will help you develop a new set of tools to define what is truly important and help you stay focused.

Recognizing the importance of integrating life and success in the workplace, I offer in house coaching within organizations and corporations where I work on employee engagement; elevate emotional intelligence, aid executives and employees in personal development and communication.
